ASA NewsNote April 10, 2014

Dear ASA Colleague,

By now you may all have heard about the online security vulnerability, code-named Heartbleed. We are happy to assure you that neither the ASA nor YourMembership.com use the OpenSSL code that contains this vulnerability. You do not need to change your username or password on this account.

This seems to be the season of TV series on issues of concern for science and faith. Many of you have enjoyed the ASA comments on Cosmos: A SpaceTime Odyssey and the series just begun on Your Inner Fish. Now you have a chance to comment on another 13-part series beginning this weekend on Showtime, called Years of Living Dangerously. Check your local listings for times. The first episode features Katherine Hayhoe, who was a plenary speaker at our 2011 annual meeting.
